

Using the author-date style in EndNote

by Steve Parker

The University of Queensland (UQ) Library has produced an EndNote author-date style based on the 6th edition of the Style manual for authors, editors and printers (2002).

This style (also known as the AGPS 6th edition style) is consistent with the style you are expected to use for essay writing for the School of Nursing & Midwifery at Flinders.

(The University of Queensland Library has kindly allowed us to link to their site.)

Directions to download style

To use this style for your work, follow these steps:

1. Go to the UQ website at: <http://www.library.uq.edu.au/endnote/styles.html>.
2. Scroll down the page until you find:

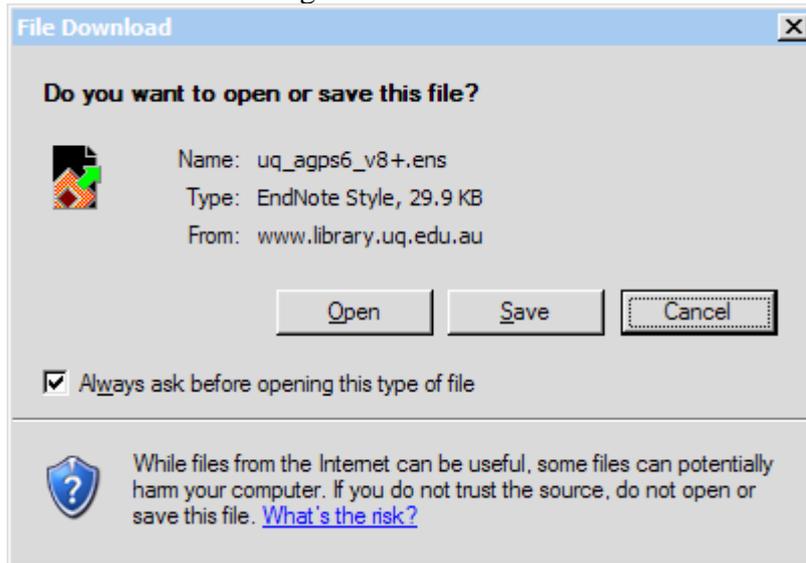

AGPS Style 6th edition

AGPS Style 6th edition Use this style with EndNote 8 and later versions	12/2005	AGPS 6th ed [shift-click to save]
AGPS Style 6th edition Use this style with EndNote 7 and earlier versions	10/2005	AGPS 6th ed [shift-click to save]
AusIMM (Australasian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy)	09/2003	AusIMM [shift-click to save]

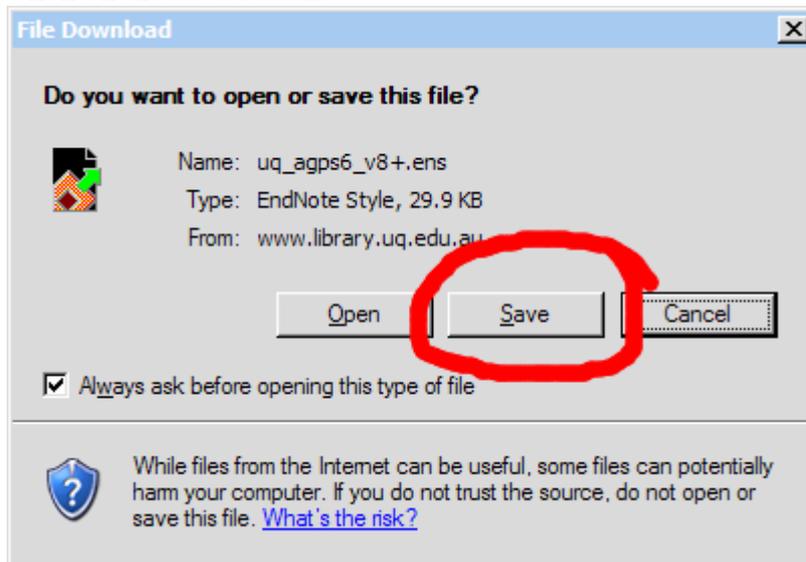

3. Note that there are two versions of this style: one of them is for EndNote 8 or later; the other is for EndNote 7 and earlier. Make sure you pick the right one for your version of EndNote.
4. Click on the link in the column next to the version you have chosen. Note that it is best to hold down the <SHIFT> key when you click on the link.

AGPS Style 6th edition Use this style with EndNote 8 and later versions	12/2005	AGPS 6th ed [shift-click to save]
AGPS Style 6th edition Use this style with EndNote 7 and earlier versions	10/2005	AGPS 6th ed [shift-click to save]
AusIMM (Australasian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy)	09/2003	AusIMM [shift-click to save]

5. You should see a dialogue box like this:

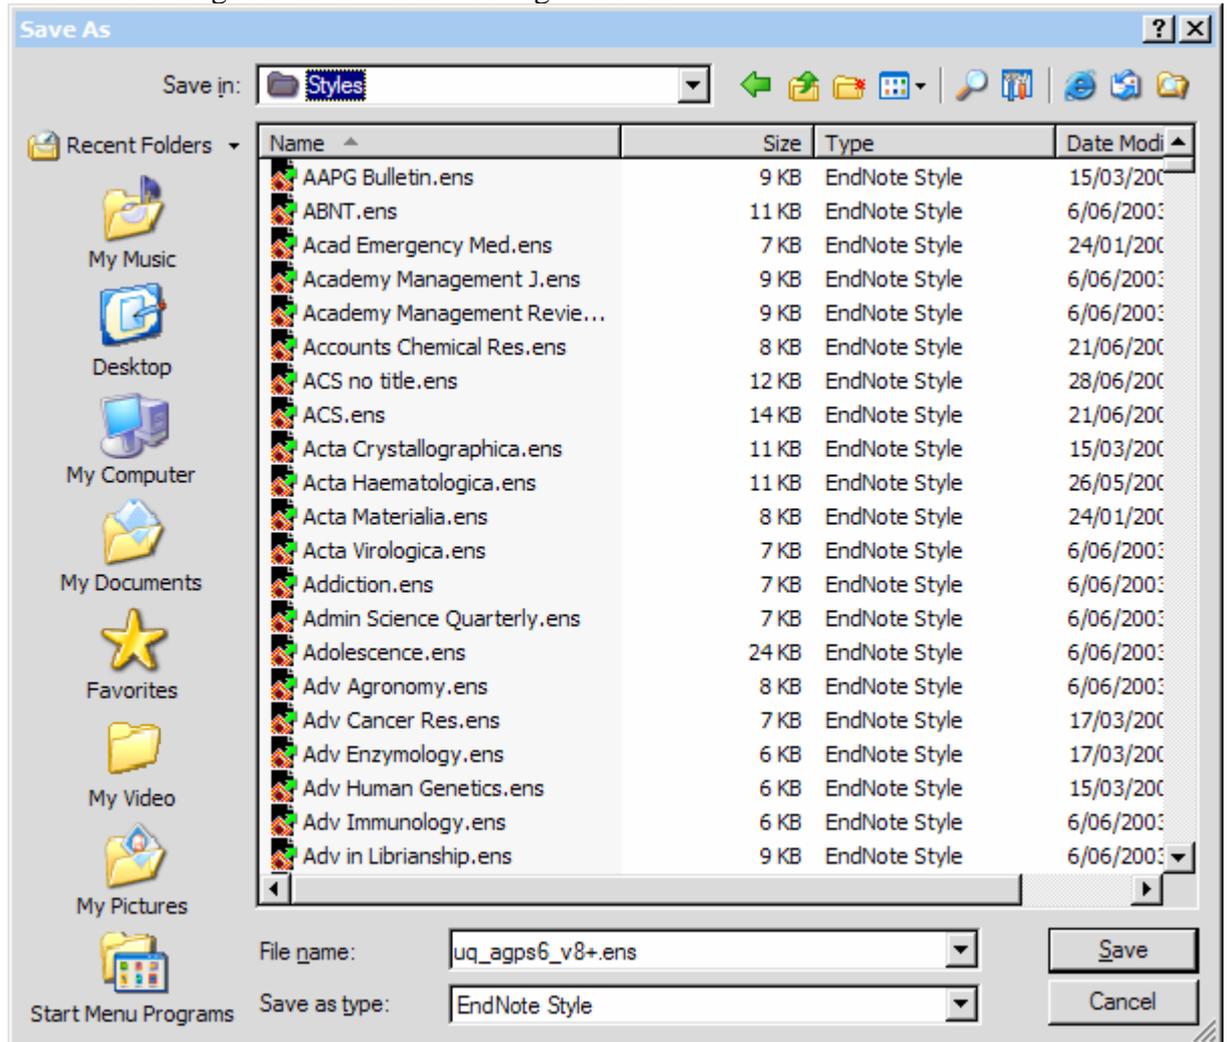

6. Click on the save button:

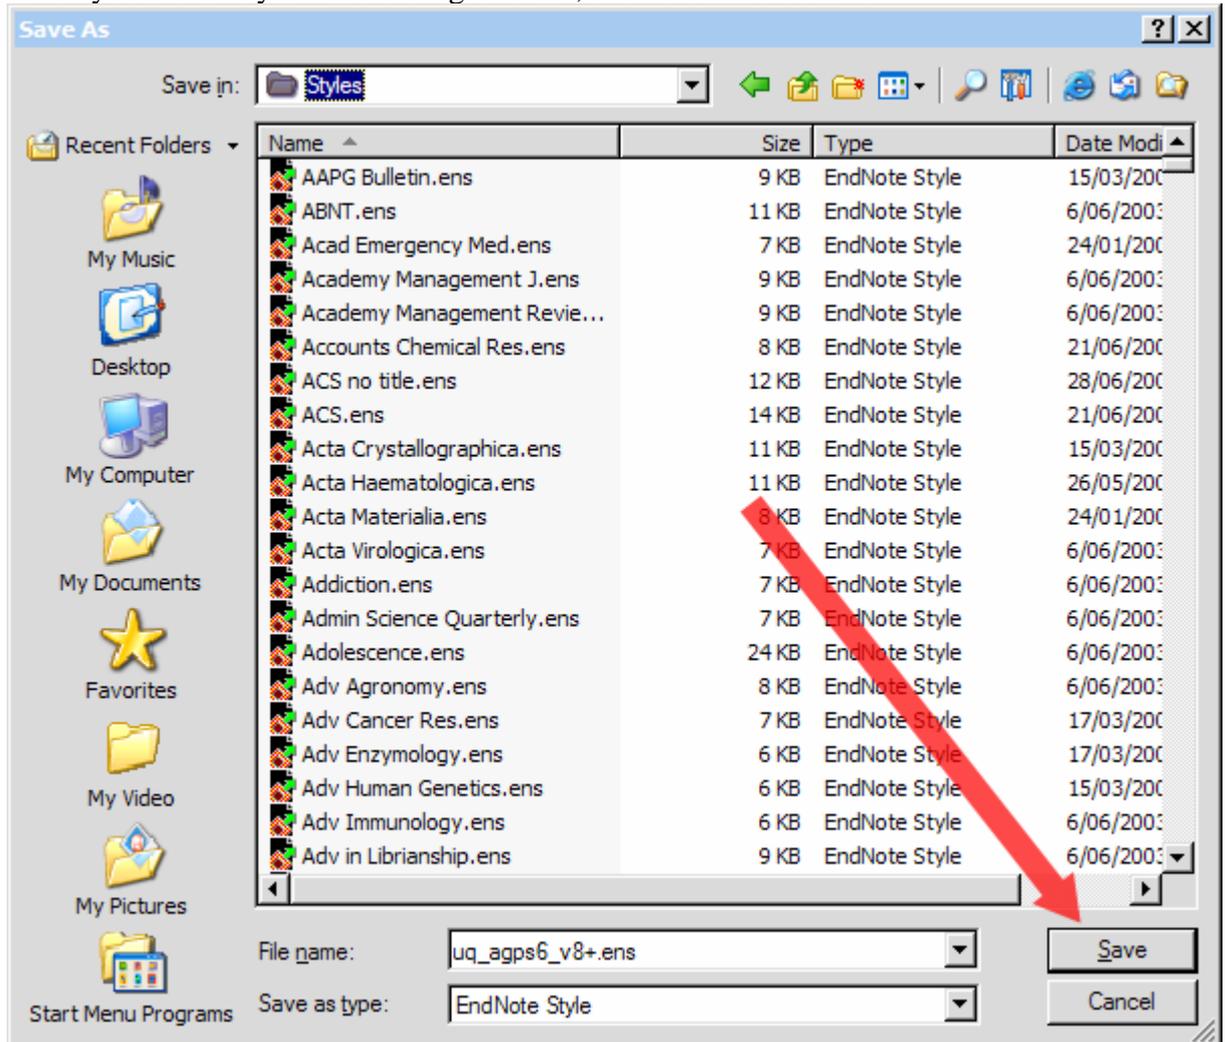

7. It is important to save the file in the Styles directory of Endnote. If you have installed Endnote using all the default settings, the folder will be:
C:\Program Files\EndNote 9\Styles

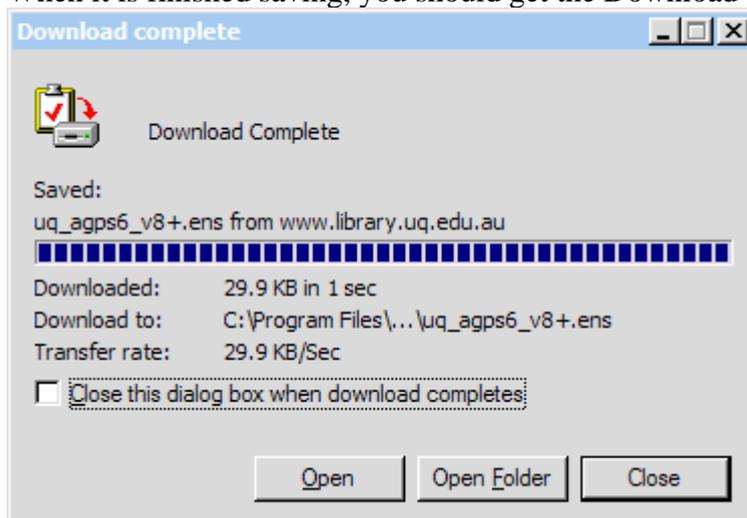

Your save dialogue should like something like this:

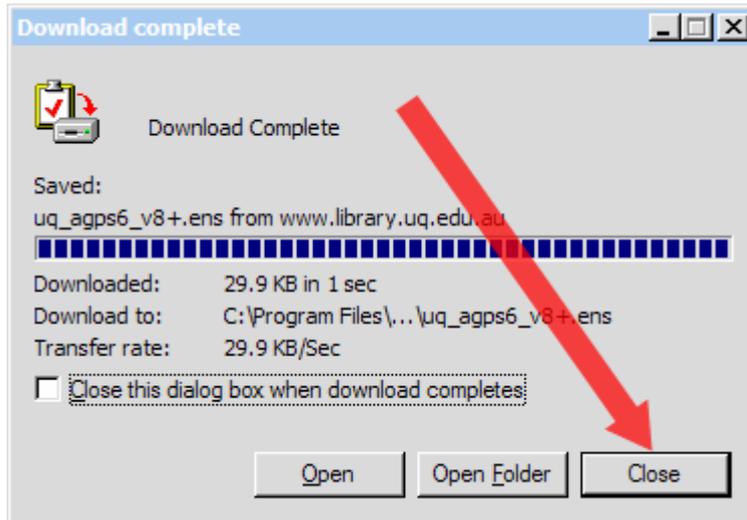

8. When you are sure you have the right folder, click the Save button:

9. When it is finished saving, you should get the Download Complete dialogue box:

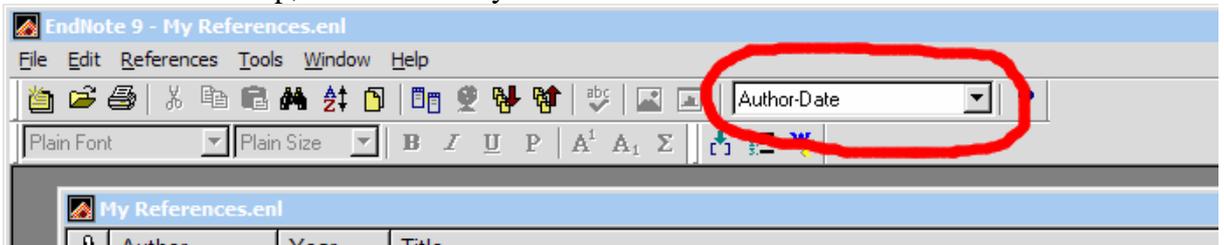

10. Click on the Close Button:

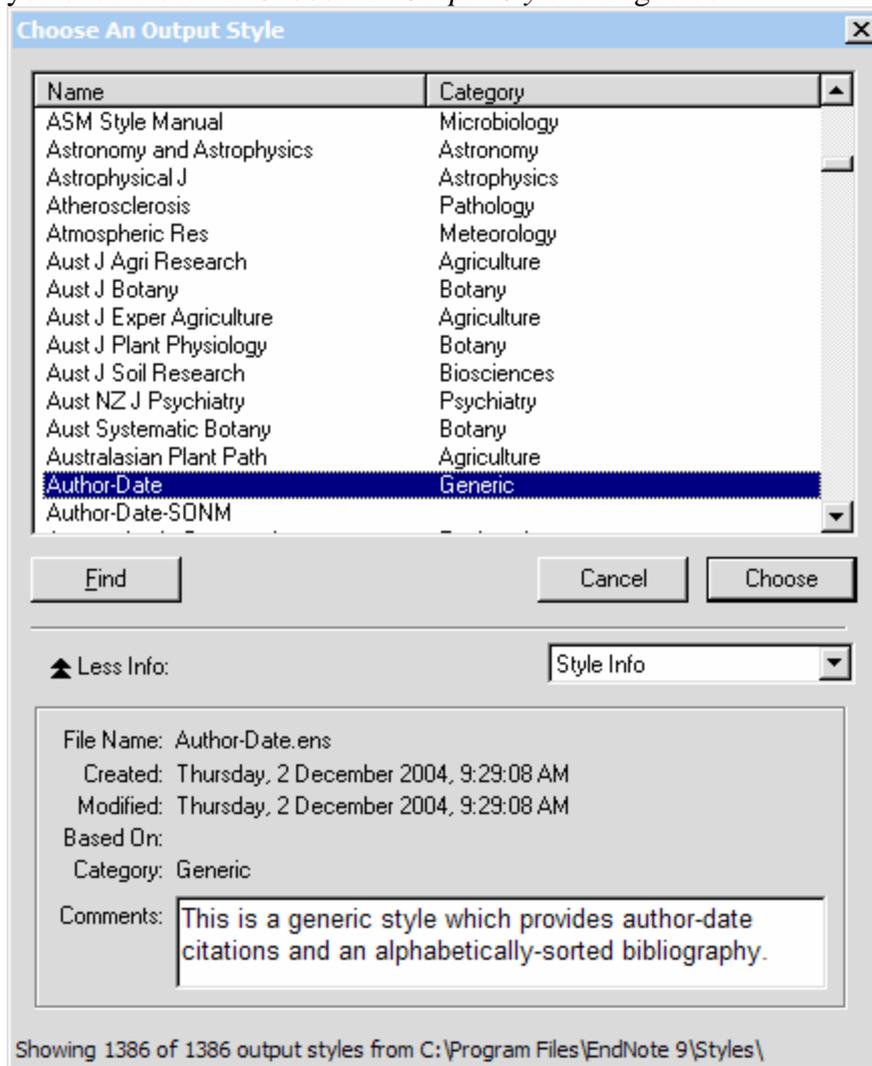

11. Now, run your Endnote program.

12. When it has started up, click on the Style toolbar:

13. Choose Select another style... from the list that pops up. After a couple of seconds, you should see the Choose An Output Style dialogue box:

14. You need to scroll down the list until you see the new style you have just saved:

Name	Category
Trends Plant Science	Agriculture
Tumor Biology	Oncology
Turabian Bibliography	Humanities
Turabian Reference List	Humanities
Twentieth-Century Music	Music
Uniform Requirements	Medicine
UpToDate	Medicine
uq_agps6_v8+
Urban History	History
Urology	Urology
Urology	Urology
USGS 7th ed	Geology
Vaccine	Immunology
Vancouver	Medicine
Verhaltenstherapie	Psychology

15. Once you have found it and clicked on it to highlight it, click the Choose button:

16. You should see the name of the style appear in the Style field of Endnote:

17. That's it! When you use EndNote now, this will be the style that is used to format your citations and bibliography.